Progress:

I was unable to complete my dissertation. This was due to several factors. These included, for example, underestimating the scope of the work I had to write, as well as my part-time job. The final factor that prevented me from working properly was my state of health, which forced me to return to the Czech Republic to undergo treatment. It was precisely these factors that were the main reasons why I did not complete my thesis.

Result:

As a result, I have to focus on my dissertation and finish it on time. That's the only option right now. I don't have any trouble with it, it's just time-consuming, as I have to squeeze several months' worth of work into a single dissertation. I'd also like to get started on the presentation, but we'll see how it goes.

Next Step:

- Finish the dissertation thesis
- Start with presentation
