Progress:

I managed to finish the first draft and send it to my supervisor. I was also able to start preparing the presentation. We received an email saying that the deadline for submitting the dissertation has been brought forward by a week. That should be fine, but I must hope there aren't too many mistakes in it.

Result:

My dissertation and presentation are finished, I'm waiting for feedback and then I'll get started on the final piece

Next Step:

- Finish the final dissertation
